Madrid 2014	While preparing for the conference I had a strong sense of apprehension. I didn't fully understand what was to come and, from what I did know about CLIL4U, I didn't really believe in it. Now, however, the aims are clear, the benefits are huge and there is a real feeling of excitement surrounding the coming 3 years.

Madrid 2014	A great kick-off meeting—Exemplary! This multi-national & multi-cultural group went from single unit partner members to with fears, defensive attitudes about their own "methods" to a united team with a cohesive vision of common outputs, and the sure knowledge that they were not "alone" in delivering their tasks, but had support from other members. I think everyone left as "happy bunnies"!
The process of surfacing the differences, mapping the differences & bridging the differences in this meeting could be a case study in Intercultural Project Team Building.

Madrid 2014	Perhaps a section on: What more did you expect?

One more thing: CECE (Marian) did a great job! Thank you!
